1 daltonism<sup>8</sup>

【医】色盲 (=color blindness)

• The artist's daltonism made it difficult for him to accurately depict the colors in his paintings.

2 orthopedics<sup>7</sup>

【医】整形外科,整形术

- · If this description matches your behavior, you're probably a weekend warrior, said Jeffrey Spang, MD, an assistant professor of orthopedics at the University of North Carolina School of Medicine.
- The doctor specialized in orthopedics and was able to diagnose the patient's condition with ease.

$3 \text{ sceptre}^5$

笏, 节杖, 王权 (=scepter)

• Therefore, let me go, for I must wander again over the world, and may not tarry here, though ye bring me the

- crown and the sceptre.
- The wizard held the sceptre aloft, its glowing tip illuminating the darkened chamber.

4 pericope<sup>8</sup>

(从书中选出的) 章节, 选段

- You're going to pay really good attention to all the details of the pericope.
- You want to concentrate on the details of your pericope to try to find out what the message is.
- The pastor's pericope on forgiveness resonated deeply with the congregation.

$5 \text{ sphinx}^7$

【希神】斯芬克斯 (有翼的狮身女怪, 传说她常叫过路行 人猜谜, 猜不出者即遭杀害)

- The sphinx sat at the edge of the desert, its enigmatic gaze piercing through the sandy dunes.
- the great sphinx (古埃及) 狮身人面像

6 paysage<sup>5</sup>

【法】乡村景色

• The painter spent hours admiring the paysage from the hilltop, capturing its rolling hills and sparkling streams in his canvas.

7 morphemics<sup>8</sup>

【用作单】【语】语素学, 词素学

• The linguist studied morphemics to better understand the structure of language.

$covin^6$

[古] 欺诈

• The detective was covin in his theory that the murderer was hiding in plain sight.

9 superfuse<sup>7</sup>

【罕】倾注, 浇盖

• The new superfuse in the hospital was able to handle twice as many patients as the old one.

$\mathbf{tar}^4$ 10

煤油; 焦油

- The sailor carefully tarred the boat to protect it from the elements.
- coal tar
- tar pitch
- coal tar pitch
- coke tar
- pine tar